FIELD OFFICES

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
CONSUMER AND MARKETING SERVICE
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20250

DEFINITIONS

A Field Office.

A "field Office" within C&MS meets all the following criteria. The office must:

- 1 Serve as the permanent or seasonal headquarters of a field organizational unit.
- 2 Have one or more Federal employees assigned thereto on a full- or part-time basis. These employees perform C&MS functions (i.e., operations or program direction of C&MS activities in an assigned geographical area), including:
 - a Response to public inquiries within limits of delegated authority;
 - b Maintenance of certain Federal records and Agency instructions; and
 - c Receipt of official communications.
- 3 Be housed in quarters which are Federally owned, Federally leased, or utilized under cooperative agreement or memorandum of understanding.

NOTE: The term "Field Office" as defined above does not include--

- a Duty stations or other worksites at facilities not under C&MS control as to their establishment, closure, or location even though office space or other work quarters may be utilized for official purposes.

Typical of those not defined as field offices are duty stations in non-Government facilities at:

Commodity Markets
Plants - eviscerating, slaughtering, packing, freezing, drying, processing, and others
Storage Elevators
Rail and Ship Terminals
Warehouses
Employees' Homes

- b Non-Federal offices serving as temporary or seasonal work locations under cooperative arrangement for C&MS employees whose permanent duty stations are elsewhere.

B Field Location.

A city or town at which one or more C&MS field offices or duty stations may be located. ("Field Location" therefore will include all points excluded from the Field Office definition as well as those included. In this way every place where an employee of C&MS is stationed on a full- or part-time basis will be counted as a "Field Location.")

This listing of C&MS Field Offices is current through June 30, 1969

Changes or corrections should be sent to:

Mr. Owen V. Cummings, Chief
Field Operations Branch
Administrative Services Division, C&MS
